Мой прапрадедушка
защищал нашу Родину
от фашистов!
